

Advisors to the Vulnerable Persons Standard

The following Advisors to the Vulnerable Persons Standard have contributed their invaluable insights and expertise to this initiative, either through active participation in authorship and review, or through thoughtful endorsement of the Standard and its safeguards framework.

Some advisors to the Vulnerable Persons Standard, and some individuals and organizations who have endorsed the Standard, have ethical and moral objections to euthanasia and assisted suicide, but have agreed to support this Standard in order to limit the harms and risks that these practices present, especially to vulnerable people.

Affiliations are indicated for information purposes only and do not necessarily represent organizational endorsement.
